Why did you want to get certified to use the MBTI assessment?

At first I wanted to get certified for personal development, but after going through the course I found it's going to be extremely valuable working with the types of people that I hire. I focus on hiring new college graduates, as well as some program management, so being able to provide this as a tool and an optional course for them to take will help them develop as potential leaders in the organization.

What was the most interesting thing you learned during the four-day certification program?

How the function pairs work and what that means in terms of career, personal life, and how people react to stressful situations.

Would you recommend the MBTI® Certification Program to a colleague?

I'd recommend it not only to other colleagues, but also to some of my friends who are unsure of where they want to go with their careers. MBTI Certification has given me the opportunity to provide a great tool to other people and also learn a lot about myself.

Be better at what you do

By successfully completing the MBTI® Certification Program, you'll enrich yourself and discover new ways to help your clients and improve your practice. At this highly interactive, comprehensive four-day workshop, you'll:
